

RP Financial's 30th Anniversary!

Thanksgiving

On behalf of RP® Financial, LC., Ron Riggins and Bill Pommerening wish to express thanksgiving to those banking companies who have engaged our company for advisory, planning and valuation services, to those who have referred our services – including law firms, investment banks, accounting firms, clients and other industry friends – and to our dedicated RP Financial team members who have served our clients over the past 30 years. This season of Thanksgiving has a double meaning for us as we celebrate RP Financial's 30th anniversary, marking our commencement of operations Thanksgiving Day weekend in 1988.

Roots Run Deep

One investment banker friend once remarked to us that “roots run deep.” And that statement captures one key reason for our success – the great friendship between Ron and Bill and their like-mindedness to serve the banking industry with integrity and professionalism. Their deep roots began well before forming RP Financial – when they were fraternity brothers at the College of William and Mary.

The “RP” Brand

The first letters of our last names quickly became the highly recognized brand “RP”, which was later memorialized with the service mark “RP®”. With such recognition, we have often been retained for our thought leadership in banking, the consistent attention to quality and timeliness of our services, the fairness of our pricing, and the stability of our senior consulting staff.

Looking Forward

Having established our niche in providing advisory, planning and valuation services, we look forward to continuing to serve our clients with the same professionalism and effectiveness as in the last three decades.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Warmest regards from all of us at RP Financial
